

Universal® received the following message from the UK Environment Agency:

UK posts step-by-step guide for Union Registry account sign-up process May 14, 2012

Please see attached and below guidance on how to open an Aviation Account.

To open your new Union Registry account you will need to complete the following stages:

1. Register as a new user in the Union Registry
2. Apply for an AOHA \(Aircraft Operator Holding Account\)
3. Provide the UK Registry Team with all the required identification documentation
4. Read and accept the Registry Terms and Conditions v1.0

These guides cover the partial functionality of the system - further guidance will follow in the coming months.

We have also attached a Registry Account Opening Guide to explain the steps you need to follow and the details of the identification documents that are required. Please review the attached guidance documents carefully before starting your online application.

Note: The web site link (URL) to the Union Registry can be found on page 2 of the 'Register a new user in the Union Registry' guide.
